COMEXI GROUP EXPANDS PRODUCT RANGE

Comexi Society Group, SL has recently established in Italy its subsidiary COMEXI CONVERTING SOLUTIONS, Srl which will focus on the development of two business areas: the first one dedicated to the design, manufacture and commercialization of gravure printing machines, and the second one on special projects in the area of flexible packaging.

Further to the business area of gravure presses, Comexi Converting Solutions Srl has reached an agreement that allows the production of gravure presses with the know-how and technology ACOM Srl and to offer technical assistance services of the machines already installed. This arrangement allows continuing to offer to the market an option with more than 50 years of experience in the design, manufacture and commercialization of gravure printing equipment.

The headquarters of this business area will be situated in Podenzano (Piacenza-Italy). Personnel from Acom Srl will carry out these activities, led by Mr. Gian Vito Schiavi.

In regards of this important decision, Manel P. Xifra, CEO of Comexi Group, explained, "This agreement allows us to consolidate our leadership position in the market, incorporating a line of gravure printing products complementary to our current product line, in keeping with our Strategic Plan. Consistently, this new business area will take advantage of the financial and commercial support from Comexi Group, a company of proven solvency over half a century of history, and of the technological and competitive synergies derived from its integration into our group. "
